coming academic year, they will take additional core and elective courses on topics such as Service-learning, Work-Based Learning, and Experiential Learning for Online classes, and they will be matched with peer mentors who are the QEP's Experiential Learning Faculty Ambassadors to assist with implementing and assessing experiential learning activities in their courses.

CELT-eLearning will ramp up faculty development on artificial intelligence (AI). CELT Tuesday Teaching Tips and eLearning's Tips and Tolls will focus on AI. A new CELT-eLearning webinar is titled, "Leverage Draft Coach by Turnitin to Improve Student Writing with AI." Or sign up for one or both of the CELT faculty learning communities (FLCs) about AI that will run this fall semester to explore how to integrate AI effectively and ethically into courses. A multidisciplinary team of faculty, led by CELT-eLearning Director Jamie Landau, was also selected to attend the AAC&U's inaugural Institute on AI, Pedagogy, and the Curriculum. They will bring back to VSU what they learn at the institute to educate colleagues about best practices for teaching with AI and
